

Today, we face some overwhelming challenges.

Our ability to sustain the environment, our communities and our economies are issues facing us all.

Design can ask questions, offer solutions and inspire change.
Will you partner with us to provoke and inspire?

Change starts now: it's time to take responsibility.

SRD Change 08 is gearing up for its biggest year to date. With two exhibitions booked and plans to take the projects overseas things are moving fast. The official website is now live online!!

<http://www.srdchange.org>

The exhibition highlights some of the most sustainable design projects produced by recent graduates from Sydney's top universities. A complete list of this years exhibitors can be found on the website, as well as links to previous years shows.

Change08 aims to inspire, provoke and enrich both the practice and understanding of Responsible Design. Change (formerly SRD ChangeX) has enjoyed great exposure, generated opportunities and success!

International exposure:

- Rachael Cassar (SRD ChangeX 07) with her stunning reconstructed Fashion was presented in Mittelmoda, Italy winning 1st prize. As featured in Sydney Morning Herald (2 June 07)
- Julie Frost (SRD ChangeX 06) potable water sterilisation project went on to be developed by an international aid agency (Article in UNSW alumni magazine Nov 06)

Past Media Coverage:

- National Radio coverage Interview with SRD ChangeX participants in 07, as well as Local radio interviews
- Press articles in Australian Financial Review, Sydney Morning Herald
- Featured in Treehugger.com article 31 May 2007 (huge international readership)
